Introducing Ron Schefdore, DMD

An untapped Market for Practice Growth

This is an exciting time to be in dentistry! We would personally like to extend an invitation to a private meeting.

Stay at the leading edge of clinical excellence and sound business practices. Meet the pioneer of Health Focused Dentistry.™ These are proven strategies that quickly improve patient health and fill empty chair time. While some dentists and hygienists will “wait and see”, others want to learn how to position their practice to take advantage of the surging interest and the unique opportunities this new science brings. These opportunities include healthier patients, a significant increase in practice revenues by providing strong referral relationships with physicians and existing patients, and doing more profitable per hour dentistry.
